EXTRACTS.

At the Yearly Meeting of Friends, held in Philadelphia, by adjournments from the 9th day of the Fifth month to the 13th of the same, inclusive, 1892.

Reports were received from all our constituent branches, and the one hundred and thirty-three Friends therein named as having been appointed Representatives to attend the service of this meeting, being called, were all present except eight; for the absence of one a sufficient reason was assigned.

Minutes for Friends in attendance from other Yearly Meetings were produced and read as follows :

For Levi L. Benson, a minister from Stillwater Monthly Meeting of Friends, held at Richland, Ohio, Eighth month 15th, 1891, endorsed by Stillwater Quarterly Meeting, held Eighth month 26th, 1891.

For John J. Cornell, a minister, from Rochester Executive Meeting of Friends, held at Rochester, N. Y., Fourth month 22d, 1892.

For Isaac Wilson, a minister, from Westlake Monthly Meeting of Friends, held at Bloomfield, Ontario, Fourth month 21st, 1892.

For Marcus O. Sluyter and Sarah Ann, his wife, elders, from West Monthly Meeting of Friends, Ohio, held Fourth month 20th, 1892.

Epistles from our brethren of New York, Baltimore, Ohio, Indiana, Genesee, and Illinois, were received and read.

(They are hereinafter inserted. See Appendix.)

To respond to these evidences of regard and Christian fellowship, as way may open, a Committee was appointed, which was also requested to assist the Clerks in gathering the exercises of the meeting and in transcribing and forwarding the Epistles.

The Representatives were desired to propose to our next sitting the name of a Friend to serve the meeting as Clerk; and the names of two Friends to serve as assistant Clerks the present year. Also the names of Friends to compose a committee to unite with a committee of Women's Meeting in auditing and settling the accounts of the Treasurer and Trustees appointed by the meeting; in examining the securities in their keeping; reporting the sum necessary to be raised the ensuing year; nominating a Friend to serve as Treasurer, and two Friends to act as correspondents of the meeting.

Second Day—Afternoon.

The Representatives reported that they had met as directed, and that they were united in proposing the name of Emmor Roberts for Clerk, and the names of Evan T. Swayne and Alfred Moore for assistant Clerks. Upon separate consideration the Friends named were united with and appointed to the respective services.

They also nominated Friends to constitute a committee to unite with a committee of Women's Meeting in examining and settling the Treasurer's accounts, etc., who were united with and appointed to the service.

The subject contained in the following extract from the report of Abington Quarterly Meeting, was referred to the Representative Committee or Meeting for Sufferings. They were requested to consider the same and report next year.

"The following minute accompanying the report from Abington Monthly Meeting, was read, approved, and directed to be forwarded to the Yearly Meeting:

'Upon inquiry it is found that several Quarterly Meetings composing the Yearly Meeting have adopted their own rules for recording the birth of children whose parents are members of different Monthly Meetings. We propose to the Quarterly Meeting the propriety of suggesting to the Yearly Meeting to adopt a uniform rule where such children shall be recorded.' "

The Committee appointed last year to consider propositions for a revision of our Book of Discipline and for changes therein, made the following report, which was read and weightily considered:

The Committee charged with the consideration of propositions for the revision of the Book of Discipline and of changes therein, had several sittings, and after earnest deliberation upon the subjects and full interchange of views, was generally united in recommending to the Yearly Meeting that it enter upon a revision of the Book of Discipline, through such a Committee as that body may see proper to appoint.

Signed by direction and on behalf of the Committee.

ROBERT M. JANNEY,
SARAH ANN CONARD, } Clerks.

Twelfth month 12th, 1891.

Tenth of the Month and Third of the Week.

The report of the Committee to consider propositions for a revision of our Book of Discipline and for changes therein, again claimed the attention of the Meeting, and the recommendations thereof were adopted. A Committee was appointed to join a Committee of Women's Meeting in bringing forward to a future sitting the names of suitable Friends to take the subject into consideration.

The various Monthly Meetings were recommended to appoint two Friends to ascertain the judgment of their respective Monthly Meetings and advise with the Revision Committee.

Third Day—Afternoon.

The Committee to carry out the provisions of the bequest of John M. George, deceased, made a report which was read, considered, and approved. The Committee was continued with power, if deemed expedient, to erect buildings, organize, open and manage the School. A sum not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars was appropriated for the use of this Committee, for the purposes above mentioned.

[For Report see Appendix.]

The Committee of five Friends appointed to advise with the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting, and with the executors of the will of John M. George, deceased, made a report, which was read, and the Committee continued.

[For Report see Appendix.]

The Committee on Education and Schools made the following report, which was read, and its labors approved. The Committee was continued, and authorized to draw on the Treasurer for necessary expenses.

To the Yearly Meeting:

The labors of this Committee for the past year have been conducted very much as reported the previous year; including the systematic visiting of schools, assisting in their reorganization and maintenance, the holding of Conferences, talks to the schools by members of the Committee, encouraging the formation of cabinets, affording an opportunity for practical work in the Training School for those desiring to teach, aiding teachers to secure situations, and furnishing, monthly, arithmetical problems suitable for the lower classes of the graded schools. We feel that increased attention should be given to providing opportunities for teachers to witness the work done in schools other than their own, and we would encourage local school committees, in the selection of teachers, to give preference to those who are members of our religious Society.

Our meetings have been well attended, and the condition and best interests of the different schools considered; most of the various sub-committees have given earnest and cateful attention to the duties assigned them, manifesting a warm interest in the work.

The number of schools within the limits of the Yearly Meeting remains about the same as last year.

The difficulties of successfully conducting Friends' schools so as to have the income meet the current expenses, do not lessen. In many cases the price of tuition has to be quite low to induce an attendance, and funds have to be supplied from other sources to maintain the school.

Orders have been drawn on the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting for the expenses of the Committee, and in aid of the schools, to the amount of $2334.21.

On behalf of the Committee.

WM. WADE GRISCOM, Clerk.

The First and Second Queries were read with the answers thereto received from subordinate meetings. Summary answers were also read and adopted.

Eleventh of the Month and Fourth of the Week.

The Third and Fourth Queries, with the answers received thereto, were read and deliberately considered. Summary answers were read and adopted.

Fourth-Day—Afternoon.

The remaining queries were read, with the answers from subordinate meetings. Summary answers to all save the second annual Query were read and adopted.

Philadelphia:

The hour for gathering at Reading on First-day morning has been changed to 10.30 A. M.

Abington :

Norristown Preparative Meeting has changed the hour for business meetings from 10.30 A. M. to 7.30 P. M.

Bucks:

Falls Monthly Meeting has changed the hour for gathering from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. of the same days, and has decided to meet in joint session.

Makefield Preparative Meeting of Ministers and Elders is now held at Newtown on Fourth-day after the last Second-day in the First, Fourth, Seventh and Tenth Months, at 10 A. M., instead of at Makefield and Newtown alternately as heretofore.

Concord:

The hour for meeting at Stanton has been changed to 10.30 A. M. from the Tenth Month to the Fourth Month both inclusive.

Caln:

The time for holding Bart Preparative Meeting has been changed to the First-day preceding the Monthly Meeting in each month at the rise of the Meeting for worship.

The hour for holding Bradford and Uwchlan Monthly Meeting has been changed from 11 to 10 o'clock.

Southern:

Pine Grove Meeting for worship and discipline has been laid down.

Cecil Monthly Meeting states that the hour for meeting is now 11 o'clock all the year.

Salem:

Woodbury Preparative Meeting of Ministers and Elders instead of convening at Woodbury only, will hereafter be held alternately at Woodbury and Upper Greenwich. At Woodbury in the Second and Eighth Months, and at Upper Greenwich in the Fifth and Eleventh Months, all at 2.30 P. M. of the same days as heretofore.

Fishing Creek:

The place for holding Roaring Creek Monthly Meeting in the Tenth Month has been changed from Catawissa to Roaring Creek, and the Monthly Meeting is now held as follows: In the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Eighth and Twelfth Months at Bear Gap; in the Sixth Month at Catawissa, and in the Fifth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh Months at Roaring Creek.

Women's Meeting introduced the subject of issuing a remonstrance to the Commissioners of the Columbian Exhibition to be held in Chicago, against their decision in regard to the sale of intoxicating liquors on the Exhibition Grounds. A committee was appointed to join with women Friends in the preparation of a suitable minute expressive of the sense of this meeting, and report to a future sitting.

Twelfth of the Month and Fifth of the Week.

The minutes of the Representative Committee or Meeting for Sufferings were read, and their labors approved.

By reports received from subordinate Meetings the ollowing-named Friends appear to have been appointed members of this committee for the present year:

Number of Books in Libraries	16876

Teachers and Pupils generally attend meetings for worship.

The committee appointed at a former sitting to nominate a suitable number of Friends to constitute the Committee to revise our Book of Discipline, presented a report which was read. The Friends therein named were united with and appointed to the service.

(For a list of them see Appendix.)

Thirteenth of the Month and Sixth of the Week.

The Committee appointed last year to consider the subject of Philanthropic Labor made a report, which was read, deliberately considered, and approved. A Committee was appointed to act with a Committee of Women's Meeting in bringing forward the names of suitable Friends to serve as members of the Committee on this subject in addition to those mentioned in the report.

(For Report see Appendix.)

The Committee on Indian Affairs made a report, which was read and their labors approved.

(For Report see Appendix.)

The Committee on the Education of the colored people of the South presented a report, which was read and approved.

(For Report see Appendix.)

The joint Committee on Intoxicating Beverages made a report, which was read, considered and accepted with general approval.

(For Report see Appendix.)

The Committee on our Distant and Isolated Members presented a report, which was read and approved.

The Committee was continued, encouraged to further labor, and authorized to draw on the Treasurer for necessary expenses.

(For Report see Appendix.)

They produced an essay of a letter, which was read and adopted. The meeting directed that it be signed by the Clerk, and that a copy thereof, together with a copy of the Extracts, be forwarded to each of our isolated members.

The Meeting also directed that the list of these members prepared by this Committee be printed with the Extracts.

(For this list see Appendix.)

Sixth-Day—Afternoon.

With the concurrence of Women's Meeting, Thomas H. Speakman was added to the Committee appointed at a former sitting to revise our Book of Discipline.

A Memorial concerning our deceased Friend, Catharine P. Foulke, prepared by Richland Monthly Meeting, approved by Abington Quarterly Meeting and introduced by the Representative Committee, was read, approved, directed to be recorded and printed with the Extracts.

The Committee appointed at a former sitting to nominate suitable Friends, who, with the members of the Committees on Indian Affairs, Intoxicating Beverages, and the Education of the Colored People of the South, should constitute the Committee on Philanthropic Labor, presented a report, which was read. The Friends therein named were united with and appointed to the service.

(For these names see Appendix.)

The Committees on Indian Affairs, Intoxicating Beverages, and the Education of the Colored People of the South were released from further service as separate Committees, but the members thereof were continued as members of the Committee on Philanthropic Labor. The Committee thus appointed was authorized to draw on the Treasurer for necessary expenses.

The remainder of the legacy of Benjamin Coates, heretofore appropriated for the use of the Committee on Indian Affairs, was appropriated for the use of this Committee, but to be used only for the benefit of the Indians.

The Committee to examine and settle the Treasurer's Account, etc., made the following report, which was read and approved. Thomas J. Husband, therein named for Treasurer, and Joseph C. Turnpenny and Annie Caley Dorland, proposed for correspondents of the Yearly Meeting, were united with and appointed to the respective services.

To the Yearly Meeting:

The Committee appointed to examine and settle the Treasurer's account nearly all met and performed the service. On comparing the orders and vouchers with his account, they were found correct, with a balance due the Yearly Meeting of $4576.19, which is on deposit in the Fidelity Trust and Safe Deposit Co., of Philadelphia, to the credit of Thomas J. Husband, Treasurer.

The receipts and expenditures for the past year have been as follows:

CR.

The Sarah Zane legacy of $1,200 is invested in a bond and mortgage on city property, all the matured interest on which has been collected.

This Committee recommend that the sum of three thousand dollars ($3000) be raised for the ensuing year; and propose the name of Thomas J. Husband for Treasurer. They also propose the names of Joseph C. Turnpenny, No. 813 Spruce Street, and Annie Caley Dorland, No. 1507 Centennial Avenue, Phila., for correspondents of the Yearly Meeting.

The third annual report of the Trustees of the Bequest of John M. George, deceased, which is hereto appended, has been examined and found correct. The bonds and mortgages were submitted to us, and found to be in amount as therein stated ($241,600.) The balance of money not invested ($9915.52) is deposited in the Land Title and Trust Co., of Philadelphia, to the credit of the Trustees of the Bequest of John M. George, deceased, to be drawn only on the joint signatures of four of the Trustees. The securities are kept in a special box deposited in the Safe Deposit Vaults of the Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives, etc., accessible by Alfred Moore and Joseph T. Bunting, Trustees, jointly.

On behalf of the Committee. Edmund Webster,
Jane P. Grahame.

Philadelphia, Fifth month 13th, 1892.

The third annual report of the Trustees of the Bequest of John M. George, deceased, duly examined and certified by this Committee, was read and accepted.

[For Report see Appendix.]

The Committee appointed at a former sitting to prepare a minute expressive of the sense of this meeting with reference to the sale of liquors on the grounds of the Columbian Exhibition, produced an essay, which was read, and, with slight amendment, generally united with. The Clerk was directed to forward a copy thereof, signed by him, to the Commissioners.

[See Appendix.]

The Committee on First-day Schools made the following report, which was read, considered, and approved. It was encouraged to further labor, and authorized to draw on the Treasurer for necessary expenses.

To the Yearly Meeting:

For the past year the Committee on the subject of First-Day Schools has held four (4) meetings, with an average attendance of twenty-six (26). The organization, and general plan and scope of work, have been the same as last year, and the increased zeal and interest manifest in most directions, and the considerable additions to the membership of our Religious Society through the influence of the schools, are indications of earnest work, and are among the gratifying fruits of the labor bestowed. The report from one section says: "Since the report was made out, one of the teachers' and several of the scholars' names have come before our Monthly Meeting, requesting to become members of the same, * * * and there is no doubt but that they will be received. If they are, we will have received thirteen (13) members within less than a year, by request and convincement, four (4) adults and nine (9) children. We have received quite a number of members by request within the last few years, and we think the First-Day School has had much to do with it."

Another report says that since the re-establishment of a First-Day school, about a year ago, in one of their smallest meetings, eleven (11) members have been received, either by request or convincement, and similar cheering information comes up from other sections.

There are also several instances of the revival of life and interest in meetings where First-Day Schools have been started.

The Committee is impressed with the fact that this would be the case in several other places where schools should be started, but the difficulty is to find those willing and competent who will make the personal sacrifices necessary to the work.

There are, however, some schools under discouragements, which call for the patient and sympathetic endeavors, not of the Committee only, but of the members of their own meetings.

Where nothing else is in our power, the manifestation of a little brotherly affection and interest will be an incalculable strength to those who are quietly devoting themselves to what they regard as manifested duty.

One school, re-established last year, had to be discontinued this Spring, largely for the lack of such sympathy.

And in this connection we would re-affirm our conviction of the great value of this work, not only to the children, but to our religious body, in early bringing the scholars to an intelligent and thoughtful comprehension of our principles and testimonies while their receptive and vigorous minds are yet fresh and untainted by those things which are so difficult to eradicate.

We are deeply impressed to call the attention of the Yearly Meeting to the scattered Friends in Southern Quarter, who, we feel, have need of a special manifestation of the love and interest of the Meeting, and we trust way may open therefor.

A family school has been established at Roaring Creek, within the limits of Fishing Creek Half-Year's Meeting, and is a cheering evidence of the attachment of those Friends to the Society from which they are so isolated.

The Philadelphia Yearly Meeting First-Day School Association has requested this Committee to assume its functions and obligations in the First-Day School work; but, while general unity was felt with the request, it was deemed better to postpone it for the present, and, instead, it was determined to ask the permission of the Yearly Meeting to co-operate with the existing First-Day School organizations within our limits, feeling that such co-operation will be a source of strength to them and to us.

One school has been furnished with Bibles, and one with library books, both of them having been recently opened, and without means to purchase for themselves. To these, several volumes of books approved by Friends were added on the order of a member of the Representative Committee.

Some success has attended our efforts to bring about the appointment of committees of oversight by the meetings. We think it might be well if this important advice of the Yearly Meeting could be further impressed.

There are, within the limits of the Yearly Meeting, eighty-one (81) schools, the same number as last year, one having been opened, and one discontinued. Of these, nineteen (19) are not under care of committees of the Meetings. Two (2) of them are family schools, and one (1) does not meet in a collective capacity, but distributes the Lesson Leaves in the homes of the members. The last furnishes no statistics; the other eighteen (18) report as follows:

Officers and Teachers, members	104
Professors with Friends	28
Others	1
	133

Pupils enrolled, members	412
One parent a member	171
Others	344	927
Total in schools		1,060

Showing a gain in these schools of about ten (10) per cent. for the year.

Six schools have no libraries; the remaining thirteen (13) have 3,968 volumes.

Teachers and scholars very generally attend Meeting.

The expenses of the Committee have been forty dollars and twenty-six cents ($40.26), for which draft has been made upon the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting.

On behalf and by direction of the Committee.

ROBERT M. JANNEY. }
MARY MCALLISTER, } Clerks.

Fifth Mo. 7th, 1892.

The Committee on Epistles produced an essay which was read and approved. The Clerk was directed to forward a copy thereof, signed by him, to each of the Yearly Meetings with which we correspond.

A Committee was appointed to assist the Clerks in preparing, printing, and distributing the Extracts.

Grateful for the privilege of again meeting in a Yearly Meeting capacity, and for the love, Christian consideration and forbearance visible amongst us, we now adjourn, to meet again at the usual time next year, if so permitted. EMMOR ROBERTS, Clerk.

OF THE

Yearly Meeting of Women Friends

HELD IN

PHILADELPHIA,

BY ADJOURNMENTS FROM THE NINTH DAY OF FIFTH MONTH TO THE THIRTEENTH OF THE SAME INCLUSIVE.

1892.

EXTRACTS.

At a Yearly Meeting of Women Friends, held in Philadelphia, by adjournments from the 9th of Fifth month, to the 13th of the same, inclusive, 1892.

Reports from all our constituent branches were read. The representatives from these were present, except eleven. For the absence of some of these sufficient causes were given. We were informed the Extracts of our last Yearly Meeting had been received and distributed.

To assist the Clerks in collecting the exercises of the Meeting, a few Friends were appointed.

To examine and settle the account of the Treasurer of Women's branch of the Yearly Meeting, and nominate a Friend to act as Treasurer for the ensuing year, five Friends were appointed.

Epistles from our sisters of New York, Genesee and Indiana Yearly Meetings were read.

Men Friends forwarded Minutes for Friends who are with them from other Yearly Meetings, which were read as follows: For John J. Cornell, a minister, from Rochester Executive Meeting, New York; for Marcus O. Sluyter, and Sarah Ann, his wife, Elders, from West Monthly Meeting, Ohio; for Isaac Wilson, a minister, from West Lake Monthly Meeting of Friends, held at Bloomfield, Ontario; for Levi L. Benson, a minister, from Stillwater Monthly Meeting of Friends, held at Richland, Ohio, endorsed by Stillwater Monthly Meeting, held at Plainfield. The company of these Friends is re-assuring and helpful, and they were welcomed into our midst with grateful hearts to our Heavenly Father that He has sent them into our fold for labor. There is nothing in all our experience that requires such an amount of faith as to go forth as a minister of the Gospel in our Religious Society, without preparation, in obedience to the Divine call. But there is a strength that never fails those who thus place their trust.

We met under a feeling of strippedness; but, by the working cords of God's love, we have been drawn nearer and nearer to each other.

The representatives were requested to meet at the close of the session, and be prepared to offer to the afternoon meeting the names of Friends to serve as Clerk and Assistant Clerk for the ensuing year.

Afternoon.

Matilda E. Janney, on behalf of the representatives, reported, they conferred together, and were united in the re-appointment of Margaretta Walton for Clerk, and Annie Caley Dorland for Assistant Clerk, and Sarah Griscom to aid as necessity required. The report was united with by the Meeting, and the Friends named appointed to these services for the ensuing year.

Epistles from Illinois, Ohio and Baltimore Yearly Meetings were read. We were again made thankful for the strengthening of the bond which this correspondence gives, being in this way permitted to partake of the cup our sisters are drinking, and, in a measure, are baptized with the baptism through which they are passing. To essay replies to these epistles as way opens, a committee was appointed,

The reading of these epistles touched a responsive chord among us. Mothers were appealed to, so to speak to their children of our Society that they shall be drawn to love it, and grow up in an adherence thereto. Children naturally love what their parents love, and if they see a spirit of allegiance actuating these, their lives will undoubtedly be influenced by it.

The following Minute from Abington Monthly

Meeting, sanctioned by Abington Quarterly Meeting, was introduced. Upon consideration it was referred to the Representative Committee or Meeting for Sufferings, to report next year, Men Friends uniting.

MINUTE.

To the Quarterly Meeting:

Upon inquiry it is found that several Quarterly Meetings composing the Yearly Meeting have adopted their own rule for recording the births of children whose parents are members of different Monthly Meetings. We propose to the Quarterly Meeting the propriety of suggesting to the Yearly Meeting to adopt a uniform rule where such children shall be recorded, as a case of this kind has recently claimed our attention.

Taken from the Minutes of Abington Monthly Meeting of Friends, held the 25th of 4th month, 1892.

BENJAMIN F. PENROSE,
ELIZABETH W. ELY, } Clerks.

A committee was appointed to unite with Men Friends to audit and settle the accounts of the Treasurer and Trustees appointed by this Meeting; examine the securities in their keeping; report the sum necessary to be raised the ensuing year; bring forward the name of a Friend to serve as Treasurer, and the names of two Friends to act as Correspondents of the Yearly Meeting.

The report of the Committee to whom was submitted the subject of the Revision of our Discipline, was read, and seriously considered. It was referred for further consideration to to-morrow morning's session.

Third-day Morning—Fifth month 10th.

The subject of revising the Discipline was again earnestly considered, and it was the prevailing judgment of this meeting that we accept the report, and that a committee should be appointed. Men Friends united therewith, and proposed that this Committee be selected by a nominating committee which should consist of three Friends from each Quarterly and Half-Year Meeting of this Yearly Meeting, which was united with and a Committee appointed.

A Friend from another Yearly Meeting gave a word of encouragement to those who are almost persuaded to accept the cause of Truth, but uncertain whether little requirements are of the right authority. As in the outward edifice the perfection of the structure depends as much upon minor details as upon those parts that come more prominently into view,—so in the Church, the small services are just as acceptable in the eyes of the Great Architect as are those of greater apparent value.

An interesting report from our Educational Committee was read and united with, and the Committee continued. Aaron B. Ivins was released at his request.

A comprehensive report from the Committee on the John M. George bequest was read, united with, and the Committee continued. Isaac C. Parry by his request was released.

An encouraging report of the Committee on First-day Schools was read and united with. The Committee was continued, and feelingly advised to live very near the Divine Light, that they may be guided thereby. It requires self-sacrifice, industry, and love for the work to insure the reward.

We have been impressed with the harmony, patience, and tender regard for each other's feelings that characterized our deliberations this morning, giving evidence that the Heavenly Father's presence overshadowed the assembly; and the holy quiet that has settled over us has given rise to silent thanksgiving and praise.

Afternoon.

The state of our Society was entered upon by the reading and answering of the First, Second, and Third Queries. Living exercises upon the testimonies contained in these Queries were given by faithful spirits who have the welfare of our Religious Society at heart.

The reports from the different meetings show that the mid-week meetings are too much neglected. The attendance of our meetings is a duty which we owe to our Heavenly Father; we cannot omit it without a loss, and when we have a true appreciation of what this service means, and are found filling our places, we touch other lives by our faithfulness. For though we may worship in the midst of our daily duties, there is a helpfulness in sitting down together in the places appointed by our people for public worship. A spiritual feast is spread by our Heavenly Father, and we are called as guests. If we are not fed it is because we are not willing to come into the condition which is needful. Mothers were encouraged to be faithful in being present at the meetings when their children are in attendance with the schools.

There is necessity for the mother to live so close to the child's confidence, by listening with attention and seriousness, as to allow no thought to be withheld from her ear.

Fourth-day Morning—Fifth month 11th.

It is recommended that each Monthly Meeting of this Yearly Meeting appoint two Friends to ascertain the judgment of their respective Monthly Meetings, and advise with the Committee on Revision of the Discipline.

We had at this session a visit in Gospel Love from our friend John J. Cornell, whose testimony reached out to the discouraged and sorrowful,—to the mothers with feeling and sympathy,—and to all to trust in the arm of the Lord.

A loving message was given to those in the younger walks of life who may be discouraged because things are not progressing as they think they should, who are disposed to turn away even from the silent worship of Friends, thinking to find solace in outward services, and greater opportunities for growth. But this will never satisfy the longings of the immortal soul. In the earnestness and ambition of youth they have not learned to be patient. They were recommended to gather into the quiet and hear "the still small voice," which will open their pathway clearly before them.

The Fourth Query and its answers were read and considered.

An interesting report from our Temperance Committee was read in connection with this Query. Much earnest feeling was manifested on this subject, and desires were expressed that through greater individual faithfulness a clearer account may come up another year.

In the consideration of this subject we were entreated not to give way to discouragement in consequence of the enormity of the liquor traffic, but to work in whatever line of thought and effort seems best to us,—not losing our strength in finding fault, or judging others for pursuing different methods.

Afternoon.

The remaining Queries were read, and the answers thereto weightily considered.

In view of the many deficiencies in the maintenance of our testimony in favor of a free gospel ministry, as shown by the answers to the Sixth Query, much solicitude was expressed. Very earnestly was our attention called to the fact that worship cannot be done one for another, but that to each individual soul, that is willing to receive, is made known the duties and obligations of that soul to its Maker. The highest and noblest worship is that in which the mind is withdrawn from all outward things and centered upon its Source, and a ministry that comes from the fresh revealings of Almighty Power reaches the heart as no other ministry an. There is no testimony of our Religious Society that is more worthy of being established and lived up to, than that of a Free Gospel Ministry.

In the consideration of the Seventh Query it was thought that it is possible to live within the bounds of our circumstances, and yet live very extravagantly. How important that we possess enough courage and individual character to live as Best Wisdom indicates, without any fear of appearing singular.

There was a concern brought before the Meeting, which was generally united with, to issue a remonstrance to the Commissioners of the Columbian Expositisn, to be held in Chicago, against the sale of all intoxicating liquors on the grounds of the Fair.

Fifth-day Afternoon—Fifth month 12th.

An epistle to our sisters of other Yearly Meetings was read, united with, and the clerk directed to sign it and forward a copy to each Yearly Meeting with which we correspond.

We had at this time a visit from our friend David Newport.

The Minutes of the Representative Committee or Meeting for Sufferings were read and approved.

The Committee on Isolated Members made a report which was united with; also offered a letter addressed to our distant members which was approved, and the Clerk directed to sign it on behalf of the Meeting. The Committee was continued to labor as way may open.

A report of the Nominating Committee on the Revision of Discipline was read and united with.

Information was received from Men's Meeting that they had appointed seven Friends to unite with a Committee of Women Friends to prepare a remonstrance to the Commissioners of the Columbian Exposition, to be held in Chicago, against the sale of all intoxicating liquors on the grounds of the Fair, and report to a future session. A committee for this purpose was appointed.

Sixth-day morning—Fifth month 13th.

The Committee appointed for the purpose produced a Minute to the Commissioners of the Columbian Exposition, which was read, and with small changes adopted, and directed to be signed by the clerks of the Yearly Meeting.

MINUTE.

In Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, at Philadelphia, Pa., Fifth month 13th, 1892.

Our attention has been drawn to the proposed sale of intoxicating liquors at the time and upon the grounds of the World's Columbian Exposition, to be held at Chicago. As this Exposition is national in its character, we believe it right to record our earnest disapproval of the sale of intoxicants thereat, and our deep regret that in the endeavor to increase its revenues this demoralizing source of profit should be contemplated. As the Exposition will show the progress of the country in an outward sense, we feel that it should exemplify also its moral advancement, and that the maintenance of the principles of sobriety and virtue should rise above all material triumphs, setting an example for good.

Signed by direction and on behalf of the Meeting.

Rachel N. Mather opened, in this Meeting, a concern to visit Men's Meeting. Unity was expressed, and she set at liberty to perform the visit. Elizabeth M. Cooper was named to accompany her.

The report of the Committee appointed last year, on the subject of Philanthropic Labor, was read and adopted, except the number proposed to be appointed. To unite with Men's Meeting in nominating additional Friends to serve on the Committee as therein suggested, Annie Caley Dorland and others were appointed.

The report of the Committee to settle the accounts of the Treasurer of Women's branch of the Yearly Meeting, was united with, and Mary F. Saunders appointed Treasurer for the ensuing year.

Report.

We have examined the account of M. F. Saunders, Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting Fund, and compared it with the vouchers, and found it correct, showing a balance due the Yearly Meeting of $1,274.99. The Committee were united in proposing the name of M. F. Saunders for Treasurer.

On behalf of the Committee,

Susan Y. Foulke,
Sarah Ann Conard.

It was the judgment of the Meeting that the quotas from our several branches shall be raised the coming year as heretofore, and it is recommended that the traveling expenses of our Committees may be defrayed from this fund when required. Application may be made to the Clerks of the different Committees. The bills shall be signed by two members of the Committee appointed for the disbursement of the funds, before they are presented to the Treasurer.

There was felt to be an increasing necessity that we, as Friends, should bear faithfully before the world our testimony against military display, and the hope was expressed that our young people would labor to make the glorious condition of "Peace on earth, good will to men," a living reality.

Afternoon.

Men Friends informed they had united with the report of the Joint Committee appointed to nominate a Committee on the Revision of Discipline. The name of Thomas H. Speakman was added by Men Friends to the Committee just apppointed. This Meeting submitted to that addition.

The report of the nominating Committee to bring forward the names of Friends to serve on the Committee on Philanthropic Labor, was united with. The Committees on Intoxicating Beverages, the Education of the Colored People of the South, and Indian Affairs, were released from further serviees as separate Committees, but were contlnued as members of the Committee on Philanthropic Labor.

Matilda Garrigues, Margaretta Walton, Carolein Hayes and Isabella Kemp were released at their request.

The remainder of the legacy of Benjamin Coates, heretofore appropriated for the use of the Committee on Indian Affairs, is continued for the use of the Committee now appointed, to be used only for the benefit of the Indians.

An interesting report from the Committee on the Education of the Colored People of the South was read and approved. This Committee is now merged into the Committee on Philanthropic Labor, but we were encouraged to continue our individual interest and labors for these people.

We had at this time a visit, in the love of the Gospel, from Isaac Wilson, whose few words were strengthening and helpful. His parting salutation was a farewell, and the way to fare well is to do well.

The Committee appointed to examine and settle the account of Thomas J. Husband, Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting, made a satisfactory report.

The Trustees of the bequest of John M. George, deceased, made a report, which was accepted. The Committee was continued, with power, if deemed expedient, to erect bnildings, organize, open, and manage the school. A sum not exceeding $100,000 is appropriated for the use of the Committee for the purposes above mentioned.

A just and fitting Memorial for our beloved friend, Catharine P. Foulke, prepared by Richland Monthly Meeting, approved by Abington Quarterly Meeting was read, and a feeling of precious solemnity was spread over us.

The Yearly Meeting has been very large. While but few women Friends with Minutes have been in attendance, we have had the company of a number without Minutes, whose fellowship has cheered us, for it remains to be a truth, that as "iron sharpeneth iron, so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend."

In our deliberations much harmony has prevailed, and we feel that Divine Love has been as the leaven in our midst, which all who have been gathered must have recognized.

While partaking of the blessings Divinely bestowed, our absent sisters have been lovingly remembered.

Since our last Yearly Meeting, we have met with strippings through death; those who ministered unto us with ability and power, and other armor bearers for the cause of Truth, have finished their earthly labors.

Their loss we deeply feel, but thankfully remember that our Father is able to quicken and qualify others as they are faithful to take up the work that these have laid down.

Under a sense of Divine favor the meeting concluded to meet at the usual time next year if so permitted.

MARGARETTA WALTON,
Clerk.

APPENDIX.

CONTAINING EPISTLES RECEIVED FROM OTHER YEARLY MEETING, A MEMORIAL OF A DECEASED FRIEND, COMMITTEES, ETC.

From the Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, held at New York, from the 25th to the 28th of Fifth month, inclusive, 1891.

To Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends:

DEAR FRIENDS:—Our Yearly Meeting has met again under most favorable conditions. The attendance of our own members is larger than usual, and a number of visiting Friends are most acceptably with us.

As a natural result there is an earnest and hopeful spirit prevailing, and a lively interest has been awakened in the advancement of the work of the Society. This interest has been aided materially by the reading of the epistles from other Yearly Meetings, which have uniformly given evidence of that consecration which evinces a quickening of spiritual life.

It seems clear to us that a forward movement in our Society has begun. There is, therefore, a greater need for us to be watchful, both as a society and as individuals. By watchfulness, we do not mean the doubting, critical spirit which passes harsh judgment upon our aspirations for good. This critical attitude toward ourselves or others will quench the true spirit; this is the doubt that killeth.

True watchfulness is concerned, not in repressing the good, but in elevating the motives which are to inspire thought and action. In all that we do in this world there is apt to be present in our minds a mixture of motives. We should weed out the lower motives and cultivate the higher. We should fix our hearts so firmly on the good for its own sake, that neither the hope of success nor the fear of failure can divert our attention from the guiding light.

But this watchfulness has still another important office. It should lead us to recognize and foster the diversity of gifts among our members. In the natural world, how poor we should be without reflected light. Everything we look upon is seen through this agency, except the sun itself and the fixed stars. The sky is blue because of reflected light. If there were no reflection we should live continuously under a dome of blackness in which the sun and the stars would glare at us like distant lamps in the darkness; there would be no snow-white clouds, no brilliant sunsets, no rainbow after the storm. The fields and the trees would no longer be green, the flowers would no longer display their harmony of colors. All about us would be an invisible blackness. The light would even forsake our homes, and only in the direct rays of the sun or stars would we be conscious of light.

The figure is not too strong for the light of our spiritual life. We live from day to day, not only by the light that shines directly upon our souls, but by the reflected rays from all the souls about us. Our lives are what they are as the result of this combined illumination, gathered from the present and the past. The love and tenderness of parents, the sweet companionship of brothers and sisters, the sympathy and counsel of friends, the kindly greetings of neighbors, and the moral and social atmosphere of our meetings and our neighborhoods, are all pouring in upon our souls their reflected light. Truly our spiritual, as well as our physical life, is illuminated by an almost infinite variety of radiations, though we may trace all to the one Source.

How necessary, then, that we should recognize this composite character of the light that shines upon us! How necessary that we should see in the variety of spiritual gifts the same divine wisdom that we recognize in the varied forms of physical life! How necessary that we should surround each spiritual gift with its appropriate condition of growth! If through narrowness, or chilling criticisms, or even the want of timely sympathy, we fail to give the needed fostering care, the light of our spiritual life may be deprived of its green fields or its beautiful flowers, or even of its blue skies and golden sunsets. We need the spiritual light of every member of our Society. We need it in every stage of its growth, and we shall suffer a loss if we deny to any soul the right to develop according to the law that God has placed within it. Let us study prayerfully and practically what are the conditions of natural growth for all ages and all temperaments, and see if the broad principles of immediate revelation, liberty of conscience, and practical righteousness, are not the religion for all ages and all mankind.

This subject has deeply moved our meeting during its present sessions. The duty and necessity of more vigorous work, both within and without our meeting houses, has been feelingly and forcibly presented; and the meeting has recommended its visiting committee to continue its work with more thorough organization, and to widen its scope for labor outside of the meetings and the First-day schools. In the same line of thought, the committee on Philanthropic Labor has planned more extensive work for the coming year A committee was also appointed "to examine our Book of Discipline with the view of ascertaining whether any changes therein would be of advantage to our Society; and in such examination to consider any suggestions that may be made for specific changes."

The First-day schools are becoming constituent parts, not only of our organization, but of our religious meetings. In many cases the transition from the First-day school to the meeting is little more than a change of name. The older people are in the First-day school, and the children remain in the meeting. In nearly all our neighborhoods, the school and the meeting are closely associated. The natural result is a greater intimacy between young and old, a condition which is mutually beneficial, and fraught with suggestive possibilities.

The subject of continuing the Matrons among the Indian women is in charge of our Representative Committee and has enlisted its earnest attention. The labors of the Committee in this behalf have received the full approval of the Yearly Meeting, as it is believed that at no time more than the present has there been a greater need for such practical work.

In the confidence that the loving Father will prepare us day by day for the duties that await us we remain your friends.

Signed by direction of the meeting.

WM. H. WILLITS, Clerk.

From Baltimore Yearly Meeting of Friends, Men's Branch, held in Baltimore, by adjournments, from the 26th of the Tenth Month to the 29th of the same, inclusive, 1891.

To Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends:

DEAR FRIENDS:—In assembling together once more in the capacity of a Yearly Meeting, our hearts have been gladdened by the presence of several Friends from within the bounds of other Yearly Meetings. In thus sending his servants to visit us in Gospel Love, our Heavenly Father has shown that we are under the care of his protecting oversight. The countenance and labors of these Friends have been encouraging and instructive, and we hope the lessons taught by them may long continue to bear fruit.

As Deity is both Spiritual and Omnipresent, it follows that He must be Spiritually discerned, and may be found in every soul that is attentive to the impressions that are made there. It is gratifying to find that the recognition of this great truth, so long, so earnestly upheld by our beloved Society, is gradually leavening the thoughts of men, and it only remains for us to be careful that in engaging in the many kinds of labor that now demand our attention, we do not go faster or further than a sense of manifested duty requires at our hands. The applause of this world would be a poor exchange for the peace that comes from doing the will of God. But let us always be attentive to these manifestations, and ever be ready to work in any field of labor that is clearly pointed out to us as the Lord's vineyard. Thus laboring in conjunction with Him, our work will not be in vain, but in due time the fruits of righteousness will show themselves to His honor and to the good of our fellow men.

Influenced by these considerations, we have endeavored, in appointing committees to engage in the First-day School work, of Philanthropy and kindred subjects, to move under the right authority. The reports from these committees were encouraging, as showing that some work has been done in these various lines, and that much more must be done if we accomplish any great amount of good. The various evils abounding in our beloved land, and especially the desolating effects of the drink habit, show that the fields are white unto the harvest, and, alas, the laborers are few. To remove the ignorance under which many are laboring requires that good literature on this subject should be spread broadcast throughout the land, and to substitute some other attractive places for the saloon, where the social feeling may be innocently indulged, is a work that will tax the utmost energy of the philanthropist, and yet, unless something is done in this direction, all legislation and restrictive labor will be in vain.

We realize that the mission of the Redeemer on earth as proclaimed by Angels, of "Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace and good will to men," continues to spread, and is being practically adopted by the rulers of nations, who confess and recommend it, because it is the Divine plan for adjusting conflicting interests; and even when nations are arraying their hostile forces with ships of war for mortal combat, the beloved Queen of England, remembering her duty to God and her fellow beings, influences them to restrain their aggressive and revengeful intentions, and yield to conciliation and peace.

How needful that all who name the name of Jesus shall, cease from strife, and endeavor to live so closely to our Good Shepherd's counsel, that we give no cause of offence to any and adopt the important truth that "Love is the greatest thing of all."

We have been enabled during the year past to continue our intimate relations with the Indian Commissioner at Washington, who cordially endorses our efforts to have Congress provide for matrons to educate the Indian women in their home duties and the proper care of their children Our Matron, Marie L. H. Steer, at Santee Agency, has labored successfully the past year, and has instilled into their minds an earnest desire to improve themselves, their homes and their manner of living. The Commissioner has also assigned to Friends another Matron, Louise H. Douglas, who has been appointed to service at the Ponca Agency, in South Dakota, and she has entered upon her duties. Thus far she has been successful in her work, and writes encouragingly and hopefully of the future.

In the bonds of that Christian Love that cements us all into one body, wherever located, we bid you an affectionate farewell, and remain your friends.

Signed by direction and on behalf of the Meeting, by,

EDWARD STABLER, JR., Clerk.

From Ohio Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, held at Salem by adjournments from 29th of Eighth month to the 3d of Ninth month, 1891.

To the Yearly Meeting of Philadelphia:

DEAR FRIENDS:—Having again been permitted to assemble in the capacity of a Yearly Meeting, we send you greeting. Jesus while upon earth declared that "Whosoever shall do the will of my Father who is in Heaven, the same is my brother and my sister." The same relationship is applicable to us, if we earnestly seek Divine assistance in the performance of the duties which devolve upon us, as members of our beloved Society, permitting ourselves to be an instrument in His hand for good, laboring together for the up-building and advancement of the one great cause, we can truly and sincerely address you as brothers and sisters. It is recorded that when the wise men from the East were searching for the infant Jesus, they were led and guided by the Star of Bethlehem, which went before them as a shining light, and stood over the place where the young child was; so if we will but look to the giver of every true and perfect gift, and give heed to the promptings of truth, we will witness the Star of Bethlehem gleaming forth in its brilliancy and splendor, shining a sa radiant light before us, guiding our footsteps over the turbulent billows of life, and if we are but faithful it will lead us into the haven of peace.

A number of Friends from other Yearly Meetings are with us, and we have been encouraged not only by their presence but by their friendly advice and the mingling of thought one with another. The fathers and mothers have been kindly entreated to look well to the teaching of the children who are entrusted to their care ; to provide for them proper and healthy amusement suitable to their age and condition, that they may not be led astray by the snares and temptations that will beset them through life, but that they may grow to pure and noble manhood and womanhood, educating them in such a manner that they will eventually be the life and strength of the Society of Friends.

The First-day School Association met, and reports from various schools, together with communications from other conferences, were read. Schools in some places report a flourishing condition, while in other places, probably from unavoidable causes, they have been laid down. Believing that the First-day School is a means of great strength to our meetings, we feel the necessity of increasing our efforts in that direction. In taking a retrospective view as to the condition of Society, we find but little to discourage us. We have had evidence sufficient to convince the most wavering mind that we as a Society are upon the upward strand of advancement, for God is the same yesterday, to-day, and forever, manifesting His power to the souls of men. We believe that the leaven is working, and that in due time the whole will be leavened.

The Committee on Temperance met, and produced a report. This great question was treated with the deepest of interest and we believe there are none but who will use their best endeavor to eradicate this atrocious monster that is upon us, when acting in accordance with the light that is given them.

The Philanthropic Committee produced a report that was instructive and encouraging, setting forth clearly that they have been working in the line of duty, and that there is yet a great field of labor to be accomplished in that direction. We remember that upon the occasion of the marriage feast, when Christ wrought his first miracle upon earth, it was remarked by one of the guests of that feast that the best of the wine was left until the last. Just so we believe it to be with his miraculous powers upon the children of men. If we are governed and controlled by his loving power we will experience a condition whereby our lives, our motives, and our actions wil become better and better, nobler and nobler, purer and purer until the perfect day.

Signed in and by direction of the aforesaid meeting.

JOSEPH S. HARTLEY, Clerk.

From Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends held by adjournment from Ninth month 28th to Tenth month 1st, 1891, inclusive.

To Philadelphia Yearly Meeting:

DEAR FRIENDS:—We feel that it is a blessed privilege the Heavenly Father has vouchsafed to us to meet again in a Yearly Meeting capacity. It is a favored opportunity that none should lightly esteem, for from the wisdom of its acts in a large degree will come the issues of our beloved Society. And we feel that we can in truth testify that the spirit of brotherly love has permeated all our deliberations; as the blessed Master said, "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another."

Our spirits have been refreshed and strengthened by the reading of your most welcome epistle. It, with those from other Yearly Meetings, furnishes us with unmistakable evidence that our Society throughout the length and breadth of its borders is laboring for the cause of truth and the spread of Christianity among mankind; and our great desire is that we may collectively as a Church and separately as individuals prayerfully wait before the Lord to know His will concerning ourselves and the duties that are before us; for we realize full well that the laborers are few and weak for the great fields of harvest that await the reapers; and the efforts of the natural man will be futile unless equipped with the grace of God.

Those bright stars in the world's history that gave us an existence as a peculiar people zealous of good works, drew their strength from that pure and crystal fountain that John describes flowing from the throne of God, from which, if w drink, we shall never thirst, and out of us will flow rivers of living water that will refresh and invigorate the earth.

We wish to emphasize the thought expressed in your epistle that the work of our Society is by no means complete, nor ever can be, while sin and unrighteousness abound in the world. And we feel in our hearts to pray our Heavenly Father for more grace and strength, that we may go into the highways and hedges and be witnesses for the Christ. For He told his disciples that they would receive power when the Holy Ghost should come upon them and make them witnesses for Him unto the uttermost parts of the earth. And we feel to encourage you to press forward toward the mark of that high calling, remembering the precious promise that He will be with you even to the end.

We have a committee of philanthropic workers whose efforts, we believe, are very encouraging for the uplifting of the down-trodden and oppressed.

Many jails and asylums have been visited, and we have the sure evidence that some salutary changes have been effected through their instrumentality. Valuable literature has been distributed among the lonely inmates, and our Committee was often touched by the gratitude always freely expressed.

But the work that is going on in our First-day School we feel will bear the more golden fruits. In them the young people are reached, and their tender minds, we hope, are made to feel the influence of truths which will lay a foundation for future usefulness, that if built upon in the true spirit will furnish us with the best of material from which to recruit our ranks, as those who have been our standard-bearers step off the stage of action and go from work to rewards.

We wish to encourage you in this work among the young, for it is a glorious field in which to labor. The blessed Master not only said, "Let them come unto me, and forbid them not," but He also said, "For of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Oh that we could so fill their souls with the love of God and his son Jesus Christ, whom he hath sent, that they would resist the many tempations that are sure to lie in their pathway!

We wish to encourage you in every good work for the uplifting of mankind and for the spread of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, and trust that as time goes by we may each be made stronger as Societies, and be cemented into a common brotherhood by the love that is begotten of God, which will flow out to all mankind.

A concern arose in our Meeting in reference to a thorough revision of our Discipline, and a committee was appointed in entire unity to take charge of the matter and report next year.

With salutations of love we remain your friends.

Signed by direction and on behalf of the Meeting.

DAVIS FURNAS, Clerk.

From Genesee Yearly Meeting of Friends, held at Bloomfield, Ontario, by adjournments from the 15th of the 6th month to the 18th of the same, inclusive, 1891.

To Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends:

DEAR FRIENDS:—Again have we assembled together, drawn by the constraining power of our Heavenly Father's love, whose presence we feel has overshadowed us during the various sessions of our annual gathering. Our hearts rise up in aspirations of thankfulness for all the tender mercies and evidences of goodness that He has vouchsafed to us, both individually and collectively. We are renewed in the faith that God inspires and directs, not only individual souls, but also the assemblies that have gathered in His name, with the one desire and for one purpose, that of serving Him.

With each individual mind centered in the one motive power, and obedient to its every impulse, there will be naught but harmony and brotherly condescension evidenced in our Yearly Meetings.

As each pulley, wheel, rod and valve performs its portion of the work according to the purpose of its creation, impelled by the motive power beyond, the complicated machinery without a jar or defect performs its vast and important work.

In like manner it is equally important that each individual soul should be obedient to the laws and purposes of its creation, acting under the immediate propelling power of God's spirit on their understanding, in order to insure harmony in our deliberations, and a correct, unbiased judgment on the varied subjects claiming the attention of the meeting.

We must not forget that the machinery will need frequent lubrications to prevent friction and discord, so we have need to apply the great principle of love, in all our mingling among our fellow men, to insure true fellowship and harmony Divine.

Aside from the gratefulness we feel for the ministrations of our own members, we feel that we are especially blest at this time with ministering and other Friends from the different Yearly Meetings, whose loving presence, instruction and ennobling exhortations have strengthened and encouraged us to persevere in the duties of our life work.

The reading of your acceptable epistle, together with those received from other Yearly Meetings, evinces that with the broadening of the labors of our Society into new fields of christian endeavor for the elevation of humanity, there is also a deepening in the spiritual life.

The readiest and surest way to increase our love for God is by increasing our love for our fellow men; this we shall manifest by aiding, restoring and comforting whenever opportunity shall offer, by instructing the youth, assisting the aged and infirm, raising the fallen, reclaiming the erring, relieving the poor, consoling the sorrowing, restoring the inebriate and the wanderer, visiting the widow and the fatherless, the sick and imprisoned, and while reaching down to these, though in places of degradation and shame, we should keep ourselves unspotted before the world. This is "pure religion and undefiled before God."

The reading and answering of the queries portraying the present state of our Society, baptized us into deep feelings of tender solicitude for the many deficiencies noted, but in view of the high standing of our profession and principles, we feel there is much to encourage and to be thankful for.

We were tenderly and earnestly admonished to faithfulness in the attendance of our smaller meetings, and not to be too much absorbed by the business cares of life, trusting and relying on an all-wise and ever present directing power, remembering that if we "Seek first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness, all these things shall be added unto you."

If those who absent themselves from our meeting could realize the depression their absence causes, or the strength and encouragement their presence would give, they would be more frequently found in our religious gatherings. As those who assemble together endeavor to keep the mind centered on the Divine Presence within them, our meetings would then be more replete with life, a ministry would be raised up where needed, and those outside our organization would feel interested to gather with us, until spiritually strengthened to seek an abiding home within our fold.

Much concern was expressed that each one might keep their secular affairs within the limit of their pecuniary means and ability to manage. Openness and confidence should exist between husband and wife in this regard, and they should have a care that their outlay should be within the limits of their income, thus avoiding the embarrassments, failures, and bitter suffering that so frequently befall the imprudent.

Our First-Day schools evince a healthy growth, and the fear entertained by many of a dwelling too much on the letter is being dispelled by a closer examination of the facts. There is a living desire that the youthful minds may be centered on the light of Christ within which is the presence of God in the soul.

In conclusion, dear friends, our aspirations ascend in gratitude to our Heavenly Father for the privilege of enjoying this annual feast, and with earnest prayers that the Divine Presence may continue to be with us all, irrespective of sect or creed, we bid you affectionately farewell.

Signed by direction and on behalf of the Meeting aforesaid.

JOHN J. CORNELL,
REBECCA ZAVITZ, } Clerks.

From Illinois Yearly Meeting of Friends, held by adjournment from the 14th of the Ninth month to the 17th of the same inclusive, 1891.

To Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends, Men's Division:

We are gathered again with grateful hearts in our annual gathering, and have been made sensible that the Father's love is very near His dependent children. We are encouraged to seek that all-sufficient grace, which aids and strengthens us in all the varied duties of life, and thus each is prepared for the final close thereof. We have listened to the salutations of love through the epistles from our distant brothers and sisters; yours has cheered and comforted us, being as "deep calling unto deep," furnishing us with a fresh incentive to prayerfully perform the requirements of each hour, not only for our own welfare, but for the love we bear to the great family of mankind, that as we enter the broad field of religious labor there will be less inclination to indulge in speculative theology.

There seems to be a great need in this period of religious investigation, when men everywhere are seeking for light, for deeper religious truths, for a more solid foundation upon which to stand, that they may be able to give a better reason for the hope that is in them. Oh, that the Society of Friends may cling closely to this great beacon Light, that can fill the world with inspiration, impelling it upward and onward, completely satisfying all our spiritual needs, and every yearning aspiration of the soul. May we by precept and example, and with an unfaltering trust in this ever-faithful and true Teacher, hold it up before an inquiring world as the alone Christian armor.

We have not been favored with the company of any ministering Friends from other Yearly Meetings. Two visiting Friends, however, from your Yearly Meeting are very acceptable in attendance.

Upon considering the state of Society, much pertinent counsel was given, indicating that we were alive to a good degree as to the essentials necessary for Christian Endeavor.

The subject pertaining to the use of intoxicants claimed the earnest and serious attention of the meeting.

A children's meeting was held, which is always looked forward to by them with much interest; they feel it is their meeting, and on that account have a higher appreciation of it. It was an instructive occasion, tender words of love were spoken, admonishing them to live lives of purity.

Two interesting sessions of the First-Day School Association were held.

The need of Friends' literature for the children and also adapted to their young lives, was feelingly adverted to as a matter of deep interest. The lack of this much-needed literature had brought into some of our schools the use of lesson leaves not published by our Society.

Newly opened fields for work in the various departments of philanthropic labor have given the young an opportunity to feel that there were places for them to work, and that they too, are lending a helping hand in the interest of Society.

There is a welling up in the hearts of many of them scattered far and wide over our vast prairies of the West, whose earnest lives give hope that help is coming.

As the closing hours of our annual feast draw near, we feel that the love which has touched our hearts from day to day has bound us more closely together in Christian fellowship.

We remain your friends,

A Memorial of Richland Monthly Meeting of Friends concerning our deceased Friend, Catherine P. Foulke.

Remembering the faithfulness of our deceased friend, Catharine P. Foulke, to the manifestations of duty, as made known unto her, we have felt that a tribute to her memory was required of us.

She was the daughter of Francis and Joanna Edkin, of Stroudsburg Particular Meeting, and under their watchful and guardian care she early became interested in those things that appertained unto her best welfare.

As she grew older this interest deepened, and she was enabled to walk in the paths of self-denial, that led unto her soul's peace.

During these years, she felt at times the spirit of wisdom and understanding so clearly given as to qualify her to speak with convincing power unto the gainsayers and traducers of her faith.

At the age of twenty-five years she was married to Charles Foulke, a man of sterling integrity, a member of our Society by birthright and conviction, and well worthy of her companionship. In their home of industry and economy, the foot-sore and weary, the seeker after social communion and nature's wilds, the messengers of that Master whom she loved, were ever received with a cheerful and gladsome welcome.

Lesson by lesson she learned in the school of that Master, that His teachings were not for her alone, but that she had to proclaim unto the people of what she had known and handled of the good Word of life.

In the belief that the ministry thus called for was in the "demonstration of the spirit and of power," in the year 1847 she was recommended as an approved minister amongst us.

She was ever zealous in the attendance of her particular Meeting, and although living at a distance from her Monthly and Quarterly Meetings, she was ever faithful in their attendance. With her devoted husband, through cold, and storms, and darkness, and privations that but few would have been able to bear, like the Apostle of old, she "Went bound in the Spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that might befall her on the way," yet over all, as her reward, came the cheering words, "Well done."

In the exercise of her ministry she was called to make frequent visits in Gospel love to many of the Yearly, Quarterly and other Meetings throughout our Society, having received liberty from her meeting to attend such upwards of thirty times. Upon her return from these meetings, she could always say that she had attended them to the peace of her own mind; and in the language of one of our own members, "It might be well said, that she ever returned bringing her sheaves with her." The universal testimony of those thus visited was that it had been to their edification and comfort.

At times it seemed necessary that she should travel alone; upon these occasions her pleasing manners and Friendly garb always secured for her the considerate and courteous attention of all, for which she was ever grateful.

Thus she passed onward, desiring for all that they might drink of the waters of life whereof she drank, and in the full fruition of that seed that had been sown in her early years, bearing testimony to the goodness of the Master that had led her forth declaring, as did the Psalmist of old, "Yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread."

On the 17th of Twelfth month 1890, in the eighty-third year of her age, she passed calmly and peacefully away.

During the past year there have been distributed several hundred copies of books and pamphlets.

The Representative Committee, or Meeting for Sufferings, states, for the information of Friends, that the books and pamphlets in the "fire-proof and Book-case" belonging to the Yearly Meeting are for distribution among those who desire to become acquainted with our religious principles and testimonies.

Members of the Representative Committee have access to the "fire-proof" by application to Isaac N. Wells, on the premises.

It is expected that Friends who have a concern to distribute books and pamphlets contained therein will apply to any member of the committee appointed by his or her Quarterly Meeting.

A book is provided for the purpose of recording books taken out, and the name of the Friend granting the order, and it is desired that such entry shall not be omitted.

Report of the Committee on John M. George Bequest.

To the Yearly Meeting:

In our report one year ago, referring to negotiations for the purchase of land near Newtown, Pa., it was stated that satisfactory arrangements were about being consummated whereby the Committee will secure an area of land amply sufficient for all the purposes of the proposed school. The following final report of the Committee on Location, which was approved by this Committee, is embraced in our report as a further explanation.

Report of the Location Committee.

In pursuance of the authority contained in the minute adopted by the general Committe, Fourth month 10th, 1891, this Committee at once proceeded to acquire title to the portion therein mentioned of the Worth farm, situated near Newtown, Bucks County, Pa., and the title to two hundred and twenty-seven acres thereof has been conveyed to and is now vested in the Trustees of the Bequest of John M. George, deceased, appointed by the Yearly Meeting. One hundred and twenty-three acres were purchased for the sum of $21,525, with contributions from Friends and others, and conveyed to the Trustees above mentioned upon the following trust:

"IN TRUST nevertheless for the Yearly Meeting aforesaid, as a site for the buildings to be erected in accordance with the provisions of the last Will and Testament of John M. George, deceased, and the Codicils thereto, for the school therein mentioned, and upon the further trust at any time after the said buildings shall have been erected and the said Boarding School established therein, to grant and convey the said tract or piece of land, or any part of the same, when so directed by the said Yearly Meeting or the Representative Committee thereof, during its recess, either to other persons to be appointed by the said Yearly Meeting upon the same trusts, or to any person or persons in fee simple, free, clear and discharged from all trusts, and without any liability on the part of the purchaser or purchasers thereof to see to the application of the purchase money. And if such conveyance shall be made upon a sale of the said premises clear and discharged from the said trusts, then as to the proceeds thereof in Trust, to appropriate the same as the said Yearly Meeting may determine for the purchase of such new and other sites for the buildings for the said school as the said Yearly Meeting may select, or for any purpose connected with the equipment, support and management of the said School."

The remaining one hundred and four acres were purchased by Clement M. Biddle, acting for some of the heirs of William Canby Biddle, for the price of $16,475. The Trustees, in accordance with the request contained in the above minute, loaned him the sum of $12,000 upon a Mortgage, and subject thereto the said Tract was donated to the Yearly Meeting by him, on behalf of the heirs and in the name of William Canby Biddle, and conveyed unto the Trustees aforesaid upon the Trust above recited, except that it contains no limitation as to the time of sale.

The title was examined and approved by John G. Johnson, who declined any compensation for his services. It was insured by the Land Title and Trust Company, which also attended to the necessary conveyancing.

The expenses incident thereto amounted to $200. An order for this sum was approved by the Committee on Finance and paid by the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting.

The following Minute was received from the Committee on "Scope and Character of the School," accepted, and forms part of our report, viz.:

Minute:—"The plans and estimates for buildings, reported by the sub committee heretofore appointed for the purpose, were considered, and it was decided to submit them to the General Committee, as a basis for study and final decision, with the recommendation that a single building, or one building with a semi-detached additional structure, be now erected, to accommodate (say) one hundred students; the plan of it to be such as not to preclude, as the School's needs increase, either enlargement on the single building plan, or the erection of additional and separated buildings; our desire being to leave the question of the adoption of either general plan to be decided in future, according as experience shall direct."

A Committee of men and women Friends have been appointed to serve as a Building Committee, with their duties defined.

Orders have been drawn on the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting in payment of the expenses of the Committee to the amount of $220.16.

On behalf of the Committee.

Since Fifth month 11th, 1891, mortgages to the amount of $6,500 have been paid off, and the sum of $23,900 has been invested by the Trustees. All interest due up to Fifth month 5th, 1892, has been paid except $465.

By the authority of the Committee to carry out the provisions of the bequest of John M. George, deceased, a tract of land containing one hundred and twenty-three acres, situated near Newtown, Pa., purchased with contributions from Friends and others, was conveyed to and accepted by us. "In trust, nevertheless, for the Yearly Meeting aforesaid as a site for the buildings to be erected in accordance with the provisions of the last will and testament of John M. George, deceased, and the codicils thereto, for the school therein mentioned, and upon the further trust at any time after the said buildings shall be completed and the said Boarding School established therein to grant and convey the said tract or piece of land or any part of the same when so directed by the said Yearly Meeting or the Representative Committee thereof during its recess either to other persons to be appointed by the said Yearly Meeting upon the same trusts or to any person or persons in fee simple free clear and discharged from all trusts and without any liability on the part of the purchaser or purchasers thereof to see to the application of the purchase money. And if such conveyance shall be made upon a sale of the said premises clear and discharged from the said trusts, then as to the proceeds thereof in trust to appropriate the same as the said Yearly Meeting may determine for the purchase of such new and other sites for the buildings for the said school as the said Yearly Meeting may select or for any purpose connected with the equipment, support and management of the said school."

In pursuance of the request of the same Committee, we loaned to Clement M. Biddle the sum of $12,000 upon a mortgage of the tract of land containing one hundred and four acres adjoining that above mentioned. The said tract was afterwards, by him, conveyed to us, subject to this mortgage (which is included in the securities in our hands), and accepted by us on behalf of the heirs and in the name of William Canby Biddle upon the trust above recited, except that it contains no limitation as to the time of sale.

Report of the Committee on the Subject of Philanthropic Labor.

To Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends:

The Committe to which was referred the subject of Philanthropic Labor, Report,

That it has been deliberately and weightily considered, that there was a united feeling in favor of engaging therein, and that the following be recommended to the Yearly Meeting:

1. The committee for the first year shall be composed of the present committees on Indian Concerns, Temperance and Intoxicating Beverages, and Colored People of the South, which shall be released as separate committees of the Yearly Meeting on the several subjects heretofore entrusted to them. To their number shall be added, by a nominating committee, twenty-five Friends from the meeting at large.

2. Their labors shall embrace the following concerns:

The Indians,
Temperance and Tobacco,
The Colored People,
Improper Publications,
Peace and Arbitration.

3. They shall be at liberty to work through the Philanthropic Union, with similar committees of the other Yearly Meetings.

Signed by direction of Committee,

Isaac H. Hillborn.
Lydia H. Hall.

The Report of the Joint Committee on Indian Affairs.

To the Yearly Meeting:

The Indian Commissioner having assigned to Friends an additional Field Matron, Louise H. Douglass was appointed by him to this position at the instance of the Indian Committee of Baltimore Yearly Meeting, and assigned to duty at the Ponca Agency in South Dakota.

In order to enable her to properly attend to the performance of her duties we provided her with a suitable outfit consisting of a pair of horses, carriage, harness, etc., at a cost of two hundred and fifty dollars, which was paid out of the special fund set apart for the use of this committee.

No other subject has claimed the attention of this committee during the past year.

On behalf of the Committee.

Alfred Moore, Clerk.

Report of the Committee on the Education of the Colored People of the South.

To the Yearly Meeting:

The Committee on the Education of the Colored People of the South report that although during the past year way has not opened for them, as a committee, to accomplish much work in the direction of their appointment, yet individual members have continued their interest, and in some of our monthly and quarterly meetings collections have been made, of money and materials, which have been forwarded to the schools in South Carolina, and which have been gratefully acknowledged by those in charge.

From a visit recently made to these schools, by one of the members of this Committee, and his particular examination into their situation and operations, he has reported to us that he has been increasingly impressed with the value of the work done by the schools among the colored people, including in this not merely the instruction and training of the children themselves, but the strong influence they have exerted in behalf of sobriety, industry, and good morals in the community roundabout.

The committee in their report at this time desire simply to present the continuing claim upon Friends of Christian benevolence, and to encourage those who have been drawn to express their interest in it not to become weary of well doing.

Signed, on behalf of the Committee, by

George L. Maris,
Hannah A. Hall.

Eleventh Annual Report of the Joint Committee on Temperance and Intoxicating Beverages.

To the Yearly Meeting:

Our committee meetings have been regularly held, with an abiding interest in the work, and in the pursuance of methods most likely to advance the knowledge of the deleterious influence of alcoholic and narcotic stimulants upon the human system, that none may be ignorant of the evil results arising from an indulgence therein.

With a view of bringing the subject more thoroughly before the children attending the First-Day Schools, and leading them to see that the use of strong drinks and narcotics is evil, and evil only, those in charge of these schools have been asked to place suitable books on this subject in their libraries. A list of books approved by this Committee has been prepared and sent to schools, and in some cases books have been purchased for their use.

The subject of Instruction in Scientific Temperance in the schools under the care of Committees appointed by Monthly or Preparative Meetings, claimed our attention, and was referred to a sub-committee to investigate how far this instruction is given. Reports were received from thirty out of thirty-two schools addressed, and from these we learn that all of the Teachers, with one exception, approve of such instruction. Nearly all of the schools have text-books and a few are supplied with charts. The children are very generally taught during some portion of the year. Several of the schools desire aid in the selection of suitable text-books for their use,— some that these books may be furnished them,—and others ask for talks, lectures, and visits from members of the Committee. Literature in pamphlet form, which will be of great value to teachers, can be found in the book-case in Room No 1.

Committees from three Quarters report some attention given to the proper enforcement of the Pennsylvania law on the subject of Scientific Temperance Instruction in Public Schools, and in one Quarter a committee was appointed to co-operate with the W. C. T. U. in reference thereto. Many schools were visited, and the teachers were found doing the best in this direction that the limited time at their disposal allowed.

The Book Commtttee has examined and purchased literature for distribution. For this and other expenses, orders have been drawn on the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting for $266.64.

The Visiting Committee has held Conferences in several localities, and the interest awakened in one Quarter led to the appointment of a Temperance Committee where none had previously existed.

Conferences and All-day Children's Meetings have been held as usual, but with increased interest. Friends in one locality report they feel they are "forming a healthy temperperance sentiment in the minds of the youth of our own fold," in another two Young Friends' Temperance Literary Societies have been recently formed with a large membership; total abstinence from alcoholic stimulants is required, and a restriction from indulgence in misleading games.

The three societies of Young Temperance Workers previously reported still exist, and continue their interest in the "Evening Home for Boys and Girls under the care of Friends," established one year ago; this year attended by boys only, who show a marked improvement in cleanliness and deportment.

The subject of sending a remonstrance to the proper authorities of the Columbian Fair to be held at Chicago, against the sale of liquors on the grounds of the Fair, was fully discussed. By direction of the Committee a petition was prepared, signed by the Clerks, and forwarded to the Director General. In reply thereto the Director-General said that it would be presented to the Commission at its next meeting.

One Committee reports they prepared and sent a petition to the New Jersey Legislature asking for the passage of an Act, "To provide for instruction in the Public Schools of that State as to the effect of alcohol and narcotics on the human system."

The subject of providing a first-class Temperance House in this city for the accommodation of Friends and others, claimed the attention of our Committee, and an earnest desire was expressed that this concern be presented to the Yearly Meeting for its consideration.

As a knowledge of the serious effects of stimulants upon the human system is gained, the mind is led to investigate the subject more deeply, and we more keenly feel the importance of a truthful report of the condition of our Society.

Since our last report death has removed some who have been actively engaged in forwarding the work since the organization of our Committee, and we sadly miss their earnest, conscientious efforts.

On behalf of the Committee,

JAMES H. ATKINSON,
ANNIE CALEY DORLAND, } Clerks.

Philadelphia, Fourth Month 9th, 1892.

Report of the Committee on Distant and Isolated Members.

To the Yearly Meeting:

The Committee on Distant and Isolated Members have met four times since last report. By means of correspondence with the various monthly meetings, a list of our members who reside outside the limits of any monthly meeting, with their addresses, so far as known, has been prepared. The committee were united in recommending that this list be published with the "Extracts," in order that any who desire to visit or correspond with these distant Friends, may know where to find them.

At Denver, Col., where fifteen of our members reside, and at other places where there are several belonging to our Religious Society, it is thought that meetings for worship and discipline might be established.

A general letter to these Friends who are so widely separated from us has been prepared, assuring them of our loving interest in their welfare, and a copy of this will be sent to each of our isolated members, if the Yearly Meeting should approve.

The expenditures of the committee amount to $16.09, and an order has been drawn on the Treasurer for this amount.

On behalf of the Committee,

Elizabeth Lloyd, Clerk.

Minute to Commissioners of Columbian Exhibition.

In Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Fifth month 13th, 1892.

Our attention has been drawn to the proposed sale of intoxicating liquors at the time and upon the grounds of the World's Columbian Exposition to be held at Chicago. As this Exposition is national in its character, we believe it right to record our earnest disapproval of the sale of intoxicants thereat, and our deep regret that in the endeavor to increase its revenues this demoralizing source of profit should be contemplated. As the Exposition will show the progress of the country in an outward sense, we feel that it should exemplify also its moral advancement, and that the maintenance of the principles of sobriety and virtue should rise above all material triumphs, setting an example for good.
